

Suzlon Foundation Partners for Solar Lamp Distribution Programme

Suzlon Foundation sponsors 1000 solar lamps through the K2K Solar Lamp Distribution Programme of Solkar and Exnora International, launched on 7th September '09, in the presence of Honourable Minister Shri Dr. Farooq Abdullah, the chief guest for the evening.

Rural electrification has always been central to our developmental efforts, where our pilot projects in Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh have been providing lighting facilities to over 400 households. With Suzlon being in the renewable energy sector, we see it as a part of our responsibility to consciously play a role in electrification of the villages in and around Suzlon's business areas. The success of our pilot projects in Rajasthan & Madhya Pradesh through the overwhelming support of the communities has encouraged us to participate in the K2K Solar Lamp Distribution initiative (Kashmir to Kanyakumari) of SOLKAR Solar Industries and ExNora International. Through this association Suzlon Foundation would support the distribution of 1000 solar lamps in Tamil Nadu (India), and provide access to lighting facilities to families currently without any source of light. In future the foundation aspires to take its efforts towards rural electrification in other areas of India, where its developmental programs are currently carrying on and thereby taking forward our commitment towards 'Powering a Greener Tomorrow, Today'.
